

Privacy

Quotations "I have as much privacy as a goldfish in a bowl".

- Princess Margaret

"Once you've lost your privacy, you realize you've lost an extremely valuable thing".

- Billy Graham

Questions

- Is privacy important in your life? How much do you value your privacy?
- How do you feel when someone invades your privacy? Do you invade other people's privacy and respect their boundaries?
- Is privacy something that is valued in your country and culture?
- Do you think it is okay for paparazzi to follow famous people and politicians and invade their privacy?
- To what extent does the government have the right to invade your privacy? Do you believe the government has the right to read your email and texts?
- Do you believe the government has the right to look at your medical records?
- Do doctors have the right to invade your privacy and write your personal concerns into your medical file, which the government can access?
- Did your parents ever invade your privacy, read a diary, listen to your phone calls or snoop through your personal belongings?
- Do you believe people actually compromise their own privacy by maintaining a Facebook account, LinkedIn account and Twitter account?
- Do you believe that your privacy is invaded by things like the Internet, Fit Bit, iPhone tracking, and scanning cards when you shop?
- Do you take extra precautions to protect your privacy and identification?
- Are there laws in your country that protect your privacy? Do you feel that airport screenings invade your privacy?

Presentation List ways in which their privacy has been invaded. Class comes back together and shares their experiences, looking for others who have had the same or similar experiences.